

Q2) Answer:

China's economic transformation has shown its economic might to the world. This gave it capacity to emerge as a major military power globally.

Impact on India:

- Burgeoning trade deficit with India.
- Flooding of Chinese goods into India.
- Withdrawal from RCEP due to Chinese economic dominance in trade.

- String of pearls around India in the Indian Ocean.
- Emerging as a new regional leader to India's neighbours.
- Competes India's growing aspiration.

Way forward:

- ~~Priority~~ India should invest more in defence.
- Engage with more Informal talks with China.
- Use common organisations such as SCO, BRICS.

China and India are two emerging powers in Asia. China with its economic and military might is growing to be a world leader. A lot needs to be done by India both to emerge as a global power and to protect from the emerging power China.